

REVIEW OF THE WEEK.

Crimes, Casualties, Personal, Political, Financial and Industrial.

A queer compilation has arisen in the Executive Departments in connection with the late passage of the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill. The bill became a law on July 7, and as Congress had extended the appropriation of last year to cover only five days of the present fiscal year, no appropriations are available for July 6, and it is said that no salaries can be paid for that day to any employee of the Government.

The Postmaster-General expresses his intention of carrying out the law giving letter-carriers 15 days' vacation. He thinks the deficiency in the appropriation can be supplied from the $4,000,000 allowed the Department for general expenses.

The defalcations of Col. J. O. P. Barnside, late the disbursing officer of the Post-Office Department, it is now found foot up to $80,000, or about $50,000 more than what was first stated.

Senator Antonio Flores, the new Minister from Ecuador to the United States, was presented to the President by the Secretary of State. He has twice before represented his country at Washington.

Congress has provided for the appointment of 150 special pension examiners for service in the field with a salary of $1,000 a year. About 120 in addition to those already examined will be needed to fill these positions, and examinations will be held as soon as practicable by the Civil Service Commission.

Places throughout the country to meet the convenience of applicants. The examinations will necessarily embrace some knowledge of law, especially the rules of evidence, and some knowledge of anatomy and physiology.

Mr. Henry S. Neal, of Ohio, the new Solicitor of the Treasury, has formally entered on the discharge of his duties. One of his first acts was to direct that suits be instituted in about 50 cases which have been pending in the office since the death of Judge Rayner.

Hon. H. P. French, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, has sailed for Liverpool. He is accompanied by his family and expects to remain in England about two months. The trip is for rest and recreation.

Eight hundred and eighty-three pages of the descriptive catalogue of Government publications, in preparation by Maj. Ben Perley Poore under the direction of the Committee on Public Printing, are already in type. When completed the work will be about 1,200 pages, with 300 pages of index. The catalogue is arranged chronologically and the index alphabetically. Sixty-three thousand and six hundred documents are referred to, comprising every publication by the Executive Departments, the Smithsonian Institution, and by scientific institutions since the origin of the Government.

Under each title are enumerated the accompanying documents and the subjects treated where the title itself is not fully descriptive. The catalogue also states where a copy of each document may be found.

The Secretary of the Treasury made advance payment of $333,333.33 to Mr. Edmund Richardson, President of the World's Exposition at New Orleans, being one-third of the $1,000,000 appropriated by Congress as a loan to the exposition.

Among the changes in House committees announced prior to the adjournment of Congress, was that of Representative A. A. Parker, of the 11th New York Congressional District to the Committee on Judiciary in place of Mr. Browne, resigned. This is a handsome compliment to Mr. Parker's ability and honorable service.

Mrs. Holabird, wife of Quartermaster-General S. B. Holabird, died in this city on the 9th inst. She was the youngest son of Gen. Alexander Hamilton, who was killed in a duel with Aaron Burr, died at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., on the 9th inst. aged 82.

Capt. T. W. Miller, of the Pension Bureau, died on the 10th inst. He was pensioned for a bar in Milwaukee in 1860, but immediately after the attack on Fort Sumter, in 1861, he gave up his pension (unlike Gen. Cleveland) as enlist as a private in the 2d W. V. in which he participated in the first battle of Bull Run. He afterwards served for some time as a volunteer aid on the staff of Gen. Cutler, of the Second Brigade, 16th Army Corps, beginning May, 1862. In this capacity he participated in the battle of Gettysburg, where he was high commendations from his superior and associate officers for his gallant conduct. He served to the close of the war, and was promoted to the position of Assistant Adjutant-General, with the rank of Captain, in recognition of his meritorious services.

Mr. Murphy, the famous chess player, died in New Orleans on the 16th inst. He was a member of the 16th Army Corps, beginning May, 1862. In this capacity he participated in the battle of Gettysburg, where he was high commendations from his superior and associate officers for his gallant conduct. He served to the close of the war, and was promoted to the position of Assistant Adjutant-General, with the rank of Captain, in recognition of his meritorious services.

Mrs. Col. Hooker, whose gallant husband is talked of Congress in the Brattleboro, Vt. district, is a prominent member of the Woman's Relief Corps.

Mr. Blaine attended the commencement of Bowdoin College, on the 10th inst., and at the dinner given at the following evening. He said: "I don't believe it is right to decide on a man for his education when he is 16 or 17 years old. We have reached an exalted point in skill in the sciences; it is an age when I find the aspirant before me on the table made of the same material as the car wheel on which I rode down from Augusta this morning."

Nominations to Congress: 8th Indiana District, James T. Johnson, Republican.

"Cleveland," says Henry Cabot Lodge, "will prove about the weakest candidate at the polls of any of the gentlemen balloted for." Without saying whether Cleveland's numerous votes were right or wrong, Mr. Lodge was of opinion that they would have a tendency to effect against the New York Governor. Mr. Lodge thought that Cleveland's nomination would greatly aid a Republican ticket in the Sixth District. He was of the opinion that there was no doubt of Blaine's election.

The National Executive Committee of the Prohibition Home Protection party met at Pittsburg on the 24 inst. to make final arrangements for the coming year. Delegates from the 23d District are already arriving, and it is expected over 500 delegates will be present. Secretary Sprague says that in the event of the success of their party, Francis Willard will have the choice of a Cabinet position.

The Independent Republicans will hold a conference in New York on the 22d inst.

Gen. Butler says he has not yet made up his mind whether he will support Cleveland and Hendricks or not.

CRIMES AND CASUALTIES.

A fire at Toledo on the 9th inst. destroyed $200,000 worth of lumber. The losses are as follows: Mitchell & Bowler, $200,000; Adams, $200,000; Nelson Holland & Co., $70,000; fully insured: J. B. Kelly, $150,000, fully insured. Over $50,000 worth of property was jeopardized by the fire, which is supposed to have originated from a passing train.

Lizzie May, of Conshohocken, Pa., whose father, after making trophy advances to her, cruelly stabbed her on Saturday night, and then committed suicide, died the following day.

Jerry Patridge, aged 60, and his son Frank, aged 19, were instantly killed, and Joseph Macottie was fatally injured at Collins's stone quarry, in Burlington, Vt., on Saturday, by a powder explosion. The men were tampering with a charge consisting of a keg of powder for a blast when it exploded and the Patridges were blown 60 feet in the air, while the Macottie was thrown a distance of 50 feet, and buried under masses of stone.

A collision, attended with the loss of three lives and the serious injury of a number of other persons, occurred on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, within a few blocks of its depot in this city, on the evening of the 12th inst. The damage to the engines and cars is estimated at $10,000.

At Quebec, Saturday, Judge Caron delivered his opinion in the case of John C. Eno, the fugitive New York Bank President, whose extradition was demanded on a charge of forgery. The application for extradition was denied, and Eno set at liberty. The Judge held first that the indictment of the New York Grand Jury was not sufficient to justify commitment under the treaty; and, secondly, that the testimony of the witnesses against Eno did not establish the crime of forgery under the extradition act had been committed.

At Dallas, Tex., on Saturday night, a duel with pistols was fought between W. H. Beale and a man named Bowie in a room on the third floor of the National Hotel. The shots were heard and the room was broken into. Both men were found lying dead. The pistol of each was found by his side. Both were shot through the heart and head. Shortly prior to the duel the men were devoted friends. A few minutes before the tragedy they had a quarrel and one was heard to say, "I'll kill you." Soon after they retired to their room. Hundreds of people surrounded the hotel. The cause of the quarrel between the men is not yet known.

FINANCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL.

The paper of J. De Rivera & Co., commission merchants, New York, went on strike on the 8th inst. The firm was rated from $300,000 to $500,000. Mr. H. De Rivera says it can hardly be called a failure. The firm were large importers of the large export trade, and had in the hands of Messrs. De Rivera & Co. state suspension is but temporary. The firm has on hand over $1,000,000 worth and produce mostly sugar and hemp.

At New York, on Saturday, Wm. M. Halstead, Wm. A. Haines, John C. Myers, and J. Edward Pennington, all of the firm of Halstead, Haines & Co. importers and jobbers in dry goods at No. 378 Broadway, filed an assignment for the benefit of creditors to Lewis May, with preference of assets and physical property.

The preferred creditors are the following: Estate of John K. Myers, $102,872; Central National Bank, $40,000; the Ninth National Bank, $30,000; the First National Bank, $25,000; Toms River, N. J., $10,000; H. C. Bennett & Co., $75,000; Drexel, Morgan & Co., $35,000; employees of the firm, $7,515. The assignment of assets was made on Saturday, and with much surprise among down-town business men. The liabilities were said to foot up $2,000,000.

THE OLD WORLD.

Something About What is Going on in This Busy World of Ours.

At London, Saturday night, Minister Lowell gave the annual Independence Day banquet at the American Embassy, which was postponed on the Fourth because of his illness. There were 14 guests present. Mr. Lowell was in excellent health, and he kept the banquet very lively. He said that his physicians have forbidden him to write for the present. Should the British House of Lords reject the franchise bill in the House of Commons, the bill will be immediately, and a general election will take place before Christmas. The Hungarian Government has adopted a project to destroy the city of Buda, the famous ruin of the city of the Danube. The work will cost 10,000,000 florins and will occupy six years. The operations for the relief of Khartoum will begin early in September. Mr. Moody, the British ambassador in Washington, has been named as the successor of Mr. Stanford in the position of Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Andrew Carnegie, the Pittsburgh millionaire, and Mr. Samuel Storey, Radical M. P. for Sunderland, have, it is reported, formed a partnership in the English newspaper enterprise. This contemplated the establishment throughout England of strong metropolitan and provincial newspapers in the liberal cause. Mr. Carnegie is a great admirer of the British press, and he has found his partner too much of a demagogue in politics to be entrusted with the desired evangelization.

Our National War Songs Book.

Contains all the famous war songs; 165 pages, full sheet music size, with piano or organ accompaniment. This page in five colors, representing the various war songs, and the price of book. Price, postpaid, ninety cents. Also, Blaine and Logan Songsters. S. Brainard & Sons, 136 State St., Chicago, Ill.

James Pyle's Pearline is not a soap, but a washing compound—a great invention for saving toil and expense without injury to the complexion, color, or hair. It is the champion of all compounds for washing in hard or soft, hot or cold water, and without soap, soda or other preparations. In the families of the rich and the poor, it is a blessing to the farmer and laborer, Pearline is a blessing. It is equally efficacious in washing dishes, clothes or begrimed hands.

Send for our "Self-Measurement" for the Grand Army suits advertised in NATIONAL TRIBUNE July 3. James White, Jr., & Co., Cor. State and Madison Sts., Chicago, Ill.

RECENT LITERATURE.

VICKSBURG. A Poem. By C. A. Hobbs. A. M. Published by J. Fairbanks & Co., Chicago. Price, in cloth, $1.75.

This is a war book of more than usual merit. Its author was First Sergeant of Co. B, 11th Ill. He was with the regiment through the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet describes the campaign he describes so well. He has added to this actual knowledge of war careful literary training and an undeniable talent, which makes his poem an exceptional one in many ways. The poem opens with a council of Gen. Sherman and his officers, held just after the failure of all but the final attempt to reach the city of Vicksburg. The poet